

For You

by joshua kaplan Oct 21 2014

i'd do anything for you anything you need me to i wouldn't do a thing for you, though i'd want to if that's what you needed me to do for you (3x)

i would ascend and i would fall for you i would collapse and i would crawl to you ignore and endure anything for you i would flee and i would fight for you go mute and refuse the night for you extinguish and ignite for you, for you i would embrace and create space for you glorify in disgrace for you i would save or sin, yang or yin for you, for you i'd plead an not say a thing for you desiccate and bring rain for you tempt fate and be great for you i'd even wait for you

but the one thing i could never do turn my gaze from you i'd live and i would die for you be right or wrong or fool or king for you and everything in between for you for you i would paint and erase any scene for you and i would wake from any dream for you i'd hold and i would release for you, for you i would drown and i would burn for you fly away and return to you scream and quietly yearn for you, for you i'd be stored and ignored for you adored and abhorred for you anchored and unmoored for you, for you i would fly and i would crash for you decry and resound for you climb and tumble to the ground for you, for you i would cause a scene for you pour oil on a troubled stream for you and every action in between for you, for you

but the one thing i could never do stop loving you
